

The famous Arabian tale

"Aladdin and the magic lamp"

from the collection

"A Thousand and One Nights"

will appear for the audience as a grandiose circus and musical performance.

The story of brave and kind Aladdin and his character is loved in all parts of the world. The first theatrical performance based on the fairy tale was created in Paris 100 years ago with the participation of the eminent artist and stage designer Lev Bakst.

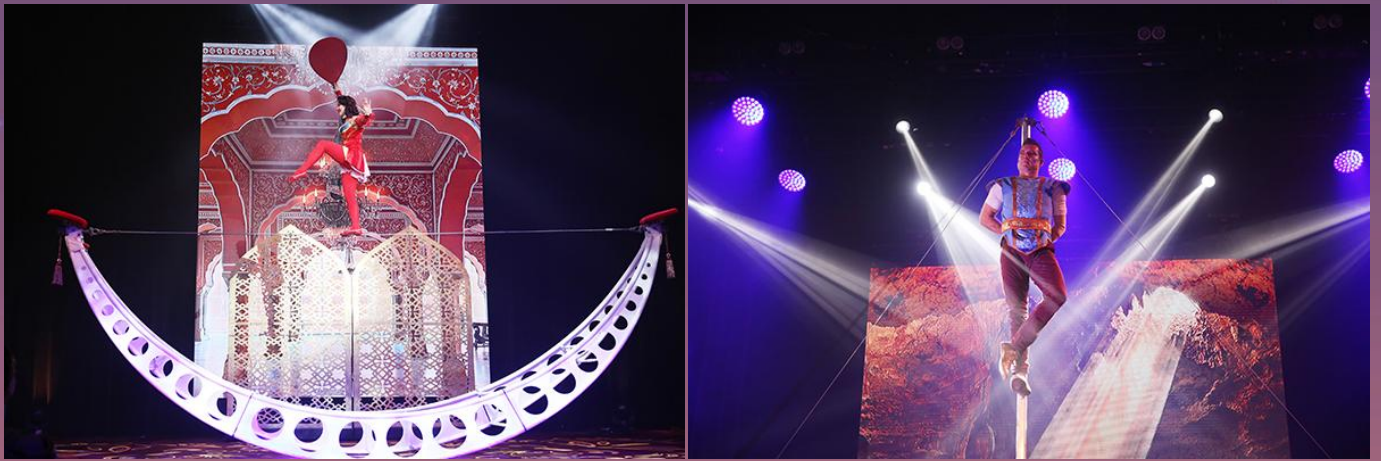

But the truly national story was made by the Walt Disney Studio, which was released in 1992 the full-length animated film "Aladdin", which received two Oscars.

New Year's performance for the whole family, "The Magic Lamp", reveals an Arabian tale from a different, new angle.

Five dozen artists, including prize-winners at circus festivals, leading vocalists of metropolitan musicals and theater actors, will turn it into a New Year parable, where good and love triumph over evil.

Especially for the show, luxurious costumes, video projections are developed and original music is written.

Parents who have decided to present their children this fairy tale will not be bored: the multi-layered plot lines, the skill of circus artists, the subtext of the vocal numbers performed are equally interesting for viewers of all ages.

The premiere production of "The Magic Lamp", filled with mystery, fantasy and magic, will win the heart of every viewer.
